CONTENTS

<Articles>

Suzuki, Yasushi & Kar, Rabi N.
India - Japan Cultural Distance on the Mottainai Ethics

Wu, Shu-Yen & Wei, Tsungche
SMEs' Strategic Transformation on Export Development in Response to the U.S. Reindustrialization —
Case Study in Taiwan

Andika, Muhammad Tri
Indonesia Border Diplomacy Under The Global Maritime Fulcrum

Arfani, Riza Noer
Political Economy of Regionalism in ASEAN and Its +3 Partners:
Contemporary Changes in the Automotive and Electronics Production Networks

<Book Review>

Trihartono, Agus
Contemporary Conflicts in Southeast Asia:
Submission to Ritsumeikan International Affairs

1. Manuscripts of Articles, Research Notes or Book Reviews may be submitted to the editorial board of the Institute for consideration.

   The Institute of International Relations and Area Studies
   Ritsumeikan University
   Tojiin-Kitamachi 56-1
   Kitaku, Kyoto 603-8577 Japan
   Tel:+81-75-465-8244, Fax: +81-75-465-8342.
   kokuchi@st.ritsumei.ac.jp

2. Manuscripts should cover the fields of international affairs such as international politics, law, economics, finance, sociology and area studies.

3. Manuscripts from academic staff of Ritsumeikan University, members of the research project sponsored by the Institute, postgraduate students of Ritsumeikan University and those who are requested to write for the journal by the editor-in-chief will be considered.

4. Manuscripts should be in printed and in electronic form.

5. Manuscripts shall not be returned to the author.

6. Please do not submit manuscripts via facsimile.

7. The Institute will not consider manuscripts whose content has been, or will be, published in another journal before it appears in Ritsumeikan International Affairs.

8. Please fill out the form of submission, which is obtainable at the Institute.

9. Upper limits are eight thousands words for articles, five thousands words for research notes, and two thousand words for book reviews.

10. Summary of some 150 words and five keywords should be included in manuscripts.

11. If you have any question, please consult the secretarial staff of the Institute.